RIO'S PRINCIPAL Mr. MARTINEZ

"As I have been here on Rio's campus longer, I am constantly impressed with the tremendous spirit and support which the Ravens demonstrate. I especially appreciate the students' enthusiasm. It is fantastic! The high caliber of curriculum, the many fine successes which I have personally witnessed, the special feelings that students have for attaining better things for themselves, as well as the tremendous support which the parents of the community extend to the school, are all qualities which make Rio Grande unique. There is just no other school like it!"

MUSIC/DRAMA/SPEECH

The band program at Rio Grande is designed to meet the instrumentalist's performing needs. Concert Band is for those students whose playing ability needs more training and development before they are exposed to the demand of Symphonic Band. The Symphonic Band is composed of students who have attained an advanced degree of proficiency on their instruments. Their performances include a variety of musical styles for a variety of occasions. Although both Concert and Symphonic Band march, Symphonic Band is the official marching band and has become an attention getting, award winning band in the past two years.

In the area of jazz-rock music, the Rock'n Ravens serve in the same manner as Concert Band. The Ravenaires would be the Symphonic Band. In both the Rock'n Ravens and Ravenaires, students get their first formal introduction to Jazz, Fusion, Progressive Jazz, Latin, and all the other styles of popular music. Here also is where a student may develop his ability to improvise music.

Choraliers is an advanced select choir. All students performed at the Homecoming Assembly, Open House, and in December they sang at Coronado Shopping Center. They also had a Christmas concert. In November, 6 students received first division honors on solos at District 7 Solo and Ensemble festival held at Albuquerque High School. Three of the students became members of the New Mexico All State Choir held in January. All-State consists of auditioners from all over the state. In February five members performed in the musical "Your A Good Man Charlie Brown". In March, all the students will be attending District 7 Festival. The treble choruses sang at Christmas and at Spring Concert and they also went to the District 7 Choral Festival.

We, the Drama Club, as one of the organizations which provides entertainment, have always sought to bring the Rio Grande High School campus quality theatre. We have felt that the things we have done, and the plays we have produced have always been of high standards. We started off the year with "Blithe Spirit" which was a comedy. We then sponsored the Halloween Carnival which was a great success. During the winter we attended the UNM Drama Festival and presented a one-act play called "A Slight Accident." "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown," which was the first musical in three years, was produced in conjunction with the Chorus Dept. In the Spring, we produced another play called, "The Night of January 16," which was a comedy drama. In summation, we have had a very prosperous, and enjoyable year.

Rio's Speech Team is the defending 1979 NFL District Champion. During the 79-80 school year Rio's team has placed 3rd or higher in 7 large tournaments and is considered one of the top 3 teams in the state. Several members of Rio's team are expected to place well at the State and NFL District tournaments. Rio has the largest NFL Chapter in the New Mexico District, maintaining an average of over 100 members and degrees for the last 3 years.

Bobby,
It was nice having you in class. Too bad you couldn't finish out the year. Take care
Mrs. Hahn

The Rio Grande H.S. Industrial Arts department is broken up into five different areas. They include: metals, woods, drafting, auto, and electronics. Also included in the department is agriculture and industrial co-op training.

Students enjoy taking these courses because of the hands-on experience they gain in the shop situation. Many students go on to further their training because of the interest they develop in the Industrial Arts classes. These courses serve as a good foundation for post secondary and apprenticeship programs in all fields of Industry.

Rio's Math Dept. has always been concerned about offering courses which are not only of interest to the students but also of value to them regardless of their plans for the future. The course offerings run from four ditferent classes of a general or practical nature up through calculus. In addition, we have a very active and thorough computer section which includes programming in several languages and individual research projects.

LANGUAGES

1. Bill Barela
2. Paul Zajda
3. Terry McCreary
4 Bernard Zeve

The Foreign Language Department has four divisions: Spanish, French, German, and Latin. However, Spanish is not regarded as a foreign language; it is taught to encourage bilingualism and cultural awareness in a bicultural area. Vocational application of Spanish is included, also by teaching typing and business letter-writing in Advanced Spanish. In addition, the development of cosmopolitan attitudes is encouraged by providing opportunities to study other modern languages and cultures, namely French and German, as well as Latin. Individualization of instruction is emphasized, and each language division of the department has motivational club activities.

The Administration and faculty at Rio Grande works hard to make our school great. We would like to acknowledge some of these people.

The department chair persons this year were: social studies-Betty Hinton, English-Ann Sandry, math-Dick Bader, P.E.-Jackie Willingham, special ed.-Carol Lopez, art and crafts-Allen Walker, industrial arts-Louis Jarros, business-Agnes Sanchez, science-Mary Beavis, and languages-Bernie Zeve.

This is Mr. Coffee's first year as house director of Rio Bravo. He feel the house plan has many fine things going for it. "I feel the students feel closer to the school, counselors and teachers through this system." He feels that his job has offered him a challenging opportunity and he is looking forward to an even better year next year. He hopes that a system would be developed where students could visit other schools on an exchange basis. These experiences would prevent isolation among high schools.

Mr. Gonzles is the house director of Casa Chama. "This is my sixth year at Rio Grande," said Mr. Gonzales, "and I continue to enjoy my work thoroughly. We have a very friendly student body, a real dedicated staff, and a concerned community." He sees many good things happening, but he still feels we need to work on school spirit and individual pride and responsibility. Those who know him can agree that he cares about his students in Chama.

Mrs. Klingbeil is the house director of Casa Cimmarron. She feels that 1979-80 was a very good year. "Rio Grande received more positive newspaper coverage than ever before and the landscaping in front of the school has finally been completed and looks great. Students are generally very polite and friendly." Mrs. Klingbeil has been house director of Cimmarron for two years and she has done a wonderful job.

Mr. Zamora is the house director of Casa Jemez. He feels the house system allows house directors to do several things. The most important is to keep better track of attendance. Mr. Zamora said, "I enjoy meeting and talking to students and I like the activities, dances, and athletic events." He enjoys his job here at Rio Grande very much. He has been here seven years and said he would not want to work anywhere else.

Mrs. Waters, secretary to Mr. Martinez, has been employed at Rio for ten years. Mrs. Waters has many responsibilities that add to the success of our school. Her job is very important. It takes an efficient person to handle the job, and we've got her here at Rio.

Mr. Hall is in charge of the IMC which he dubs "the factory." He has been at Rio since 1973. Mr. Hall told us, "One of the most enjoyable parts of my work is that I have the opportunity to work with a great number of groups of students at our school."

Virginia Johnson is Rio's textbook clerk. She feels this has been a good year. The administration, staff and students have been very cooperative. She said, "It is just like Christmas when all the new materials come in. The boo-room progresses very well with the help of excellent aides."

The librarians and Mr. Hall completed the television studio in December and feel it will be a great success. The media staff greatly relies on their student aides. Without them the media would be at a stand still. Mrs. Whitlow has found that students have become more serious and responsible. She is really proud of them and we are proud of her and our other media staff.

Mrs. Griffith, the activities director, has been here for eight years. She feels the years have changed for the better. This year she worked very hard in organizing the beautification project in the front of the school. She loves her job and the students she works with in the Student Senate. Mrs. Griffith is one of the reasons Rio is so great.

Mr. Sedillo has a very important job here at Rio. He is a home liasion man. He works with students who are placed on suspension to keep them in school. He makes plenty of visits to families. This just goes to show that he realy cares about student affairs at school. He has other important jobs to do and he does his best through hard, dedicated work, to keep Rio #1.

There are two women here at Rio Grande who deserve much more recognition than they get. They are the managers of the cafeteria, Louise Cherry and Dorothy Benaka. We are the only school in Albuquerque who require two managers because of the great attendance of students. This year Mrs. Cherry will be retiring, but she cares very much for Rio and her staff. She said, "We have a good staff and they are willing to do any crazy things Mrs. Benaka and I like to do." This year we are really fortunate that we have such an outgoing, friendly staff!

Whenever we have aches and pains, who do we turn to? Lola Lenz, our nurse here at Rio. Not only does she soothe our aches, but she cares about the students. Although she has been real busy, she has managed to have students immunizations brought up to date with great assistance of Rosalie Vigil, her full time aide. "I really like it here and I wouldn't consider going to any other school." She has been here for 16 years, so that goes to show she really means it.

The Social Studies department opened the school year with a new course in Civics. More than one-half of the Rio Grande student body is enrolled in social studies classes and we are proud to be able to offer many types of courses.

We would like to welcome five new teachers to the Social Studies department - Daniel Barker, John Boyadjian, Judy Harrison, Bob Schultz, and David Teague.

Rio Grande's Alternative Program for 1979-80 has combined Swifto, Reachout and Search into one unit-Los Amigos. Los Amigos stands for two things — alternatives to meet individual goals of students and the spirit of friendship. Los Amigos has 70 students from the 10th, 11th and 12th grades and three teachers-Glenn Brungard, Marjorie Hicks, and Harold Trott. Students can make up credits and earn credits in all high school subjects. Los Amigos helps students plan individual programs of study. Students may also earn work study credits. Los Amigos plans many activities for the program and students participate in Rio Grande sports and clubs. Los Amigos is proud to continue the traditions of alternative education started by Swifto, Reach Out, and Search.

The Special Education Department serves to help students at Rio Grande High School who may need support in academic, social and/or emotional areas.

There are 16 programs that serve the students individual needs. The goal of Special Education is to get students back into regular classes if possible and offer the requirements set for graduation. There are 4 levels of Special education: A-Itinerant; B-Resource Room; C-Work Study; and D-Special Adaptation.

Eldorado, Rio Grande Gain Finals

By JEFF GARDNER
Journal Sports Writer

When push came to shove, the Rio Grande Ravens shoved just a bit harder and slipped past the West Mesa Mustangs to take a 53-48 girls' basketball win and advance to the finals of the APS Invitational to meet Eldorado tonight.

In what nearly turned into a free-for-all, Rio Grande got double-figure scoring from Debbie Camacho (19), Monica Padilla (15) and Sandra Gayton (11), and the same combination dominated the boards throughout the bout.

The last quarter looked like the officials decided to call it a night, as hands and heads bounced on the floor more often than the basketball.

"It really got wild out there," Rio Coach Kathi Raver said. "It was like the officials just wanted to let the clock go." Raver got so carried away at the end that she called a time out with three seconds left in the game and the scoreboard showing the final score.

"I thought there was 30 seconds left," Raver laughed. "I lost track of time. The kids were listening to everyone but me, so I called a time out. Then I looked at the clock."

The Mustangs were playing on their home court but could muster only 19-of-68 shots from the field. The Ravens were a bit worse, 20-78, but most of those were on second and third attempts.

"I was really pleased with the way we went to the boards," Raver said. "Sandra just really played well. She's improved so much over the last four years."

While Gayton was racking up rebounds inside, Camacho and Padilla put it up from all over. The scrappy Camacho also punished the Mustangs on defense.

"She's capable of playing like this all the time," Raver said. "But she's got to keep her head in the game." Raver sat Camacho down in the first period, but when she returned at the start of the second quarter the Mustangs might as well have gone home.

KRUEGER SIGNED two of the in-state recruits — James Hebert, 5-11 fullback from Rio Grande High School in Albuquerque and Mark Brandt, 6-1, 152-pound punter from St. Michael's High School in Santa Fe.

Hebert said he thought he could start playing for the Aggies next year.

"I HAVE A chance to do just about anything next year. It depends on what I do in summer practice and if I keep my grades up," he said.

He said the Aggie coaches told him they were particularly impressed that he showed no hesitation in turning up field when running to the outside.

Ravens Shock Del Norte

By RANDY PEPPLE
Journal Correspondent

In the wild-and-wacky world of District 2AAAA anything can happen. Just ask Del Norte Coach Hugh Dickson.

Or for that matter, ask Rio Grande Coach Pete Gallegos, who was on the winning side for a change, as his Ravens edged the Knights 56-55 in the Del Norte gym Wednesday night.

The Rio team was able to pull off the upset in a most miraculous fashion, as Ralph Larribas grabbed an errant Raven attempt, and then put it in at the buzzer for the end to the thriller.

Anthony Llamas winds up with amazing 53 catches

Anthony Llamas
A receiving record?

By JOHN O'ROURKE
Tribune Sports Writer

At Rio Grande High School, they're wondering if Anthony Llamas has set some sort of a record.

Llamas, a junior split end, caught 53 passes in Rio Grande's 10 football games this season, a fat total for any high school player.

DOING RESEARCH on high school statistics is like taking a course in elementary Martian, so no one knows if any past Albuquerque players have caught more passes in a season than did Llamas.

But no one topped his total this year, so the 5-11 Llamas has won The Tribune's 1979 city receiving crown.

At 17, This High School Potter Has Bright Future

By PAMELA BEERER
Journal Trends Writer

Anthony Sangre can almost see his reflection in the small black stone he carries protectively in his jeans' pocket. Like a metate, the river pebble has been rubbed satiny smooth, having been tossed about for decades in mountain streams.

Now, under Anthony's ownership, the stone has been refined so that one side conforms to fit the triangle between his thumb, index finger and middle finger. The other side, just barely concave, smoothes the pottery Anthony hopes will make him well known and, possibly, famous.

Next to a steady hand and a perceptive eye, a good polishing stone is one of the most important tools a potter can possess. At 17, Anthony has all three.

"All a teacher can do with Anthony is sit on him and guide him," says Betty Johnson of her Rio Grande High School senior. The hand and the perception, it seems, were always there.

Three years ago when Anthony came to Mrs. Johnson's class, he had spent many hours drawing at home in Isleta Pueblo, but had had no formal training. At Rio Grande, he took painting but didn't like it, partly because paintings "just hang there." To him, pottery was something to be used, something that moved — and if progress so far is any indication, Anthony's pottery is destined for far away places.

The winner of a recent Albuquerque Public School's art competition and a $300 scholarship, Anthony breathes a vision into his raw clay long before he begins to carve the intricate images that dance across the satiny surface of his work.

To capture the lifelike images of the elk, antelope, bears, eagles, hawks and swallows that gaze questioningly, fearfully and freely from his etchings, he studies wildlife and Audobon Society publications. Then, before construction, he often makes a drawing to integrate his animal images and compose the various Indian designs that will frame them on the finished pot.

Anthony's teacher, Mrs. Johnson, rummages through a cabinet in her cluttered office and pulls out a clear plastic bag turned brown. Her prize student reaches in to get a small chunk of damp talc clay and begins to pinch it into a base. From another muddied bag, he takes a previously-built base topped by two coils. One by one, more coils will follow, each kneaded deftly to marble-like smoothness.

Rio's Richard Rogers gets 33 in win over Belen

By OLLIE REED JR.
Tribune Sports Writer

Richard Rogers doesn't sport a top hat and cape like Mandrake, and he doesn't have the slippery moves of a Houdini.

But Rogers seemed to be at least part magician Tuesday as he brought the Rio Grande basketball team back from the dead.

Instead of a magic wand, Rogers used a deft, fallaway shot to score 14 field goals and boost the Ravens to an 81-53 District 2AAAA win over Belen.

THE WIN in the Rio Grande gym was the Ravens' first in 10 games. They are 1-1 in district play.

"We were dying. We were 0-9," Rio Grande coach Pete Gallegos said. "But I think this game will help their (the Ravens') confidence a great deal."

Rio Grande jumped out 18-8 first quarter lead and led 35-25 at halftime. The Ravens increased their edge to 53-35 in the third period, and then Rogers pulled out all the stops.

The 6-3 center, who finished with 33 points, hit six field goals and four of four free throws in the final period.

"I WAS getting good passes," Rogers said.

That's not just Rogers's modesty coming through. He has had hot nights before and Rio Grande has lost. This time he had good support.

"The other kids are looking for Rogers pretty well. Ralph Larribas (Rio Grande junior forward) had about four assists in a row," Gallegos said. "And my little guards did well. They penetrated well and shot the ball well.

"We had been awfully timid with the ball. My guards knew what they had to do, but before tonight they weren't executing well."

GUARD JIMMY Benavidez scored eight points. Larribas tossed in 11 and Edward Chiwewe connected for 12 points.

Jim Smrt led Belen with 14 points. Matt Romero contributed 10 points to the losing cause.

The loss gave the Eagles a 6-4 overall record and an 0-1 district mark.

"We just were flat," Belen coach Ken Griego said. "They were shooting real well in the beginning and we couldn't buy a basket."

GRIEGO SAID Rio Grande's tenacious 1-3-1 and 2-3 zone dfenses did not hurt his team.

"We hurt ourselves. We took the shots we wanted to take, but the ball wasn't falling," he said.

Rogers disagreed with Griego.

"Our pressure, our good defense stopped them," the big senior said. "They couldn't get the ball inside on us, so they were taking shots from outside."

In a "B" team game played before the varsity contest, Nash Sena scored 20 points to spark Rio Grande to a 77-62 win over Belen. Belen's John Powers also collected 20 points.

Pearl Harbor Remembrance

On the 38th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, members of the Rio Grande Marine junior ROTC lower the flag to half mast during special ceremonies Friday at Civic Plaza. The program included the laying of a wreath by the Gold Star Mothers and addresses by survivors of the attack on Dec. 7, 1941.

A student club geared to capitalist principles involved in a refugee outreach program?

Sounds like an unlikely association.

Yet here in Albuquerque a high school DECA club — Distributive Education Club of America — has found just such a unique way to become involved with capitalism.

Under the direction of their teacher, Jay Stevenson, a group of Rio Grande High School students has formed an outreach program to Indo-Chinese refugees in the city.

The project is their official entry in a Free Enterprise contest sponsored by Phillips Petroleum. Their purpose - to help Indo-Chinese refugees feel like an integral part of the community, thus encouraging them to enter the work force in a constructive way. In the process, the club members hoped to learn more about America's economic system through intimate contact with another.

RIO GRANDE STUNS EVERYONE

This year's Boys Basketball team did an outstanding job. Although the season was not thoroughly successful, the Proud Ravens took 3rd in the district tournament. The Rio Grande Ravens started off in the district tournament by victoriously running past the Valley Vikings 78-71. In Rio's second game they shattered Del Norte's hopes to go to the Semi-Final game by beating them by a wide margin, 80-61. The Ravens also put up a hard fight against Manzano to go to State. Even though they didn't make it to State they played all three games skillfully and with a lot of emotion.

TAKES 3RD IN DISTRICT

GOLF

Group: Rl, Jay Raborn, Ray Trujillo, Richard Howard, R2, Coach Contreras, Andrew Hall, Danny Baros, Mike Montoya, Leon Thompson, Jerry Rael
Seniors- Mike Montoya
2 Andrew Hall

ESSENCE

WAITING

What I am feeling inside is very hard for me to explain.
I am just feeling lost and lonely with hardly any more life to claim.
I guess it's normal to get this scary feeling deep down inside,
Especially when your loved one has temporarily left your side.
Promises were made to keep writing and to never be unfair.
But I keep wondering of you might ever get the need to share.
I think I could forgive you if you ever get too lonely.
When you're in a room with a beautiful girl . . . Surely I am not your only.
But I am holding on to my dream that you'll always be true.
I also want you to keep the positive thought that I will too.
The only thing I am holding on to is that someday you'll be back
And when that day comes along, I hope none of our love will lack.

ANONYMOUS

To Laura a very mean and sometimes nice I hope you have a good year
next year. roses
are red violets are blue sugar is sweet and so are you.

SOUL BOX

There's a quiet heartbeat at the top of the stairs,
In the back so far nobody cares

You think you hear it and it grows stronger,
Thump after thump it gets longer and longer

You begin to listen for its sound,
You stop and think and look around

You suddenly realize you're all alone,
Then the noise upstairs begins to moan

You want to hide or turn away,
But something inside makes you stay

You walk to the stairs and begin to climb,
Your legs seem to melt and your skin feels like slime

Farther and farther, towards the back you go,
What you're looking for you don't know

Something is drawing you close to a box,
All chained up with three big locks

You see three keys laying near by,
The moan has turned into a great long sigh

You open the three locks with the keys,
Your heart is pounding as you drop to your knees

You lift up the lid and try to close it after,
You're surrounded by light and hear strange laughter

The light is gone and everything's dark,
The thing in the box has left it's mark

You watch yourself walk away, through the keyhole,
It has your body and has locked up your soul

You cannot move and you cannot speak,
You wait and wait for the body you seek

Harold Cheryholmes

ANTICIPATIONS END

I used to wonder, how it would be, to live a life and forever be free
. . . . .
To run a road endlessly, and rid myself of eternity
Of this I'll never know, for I have nowhere I can go
In this room, I am confined, I have no way to pass my time
The days are long, the nights are sad
The endless quiet, could drive you mad
If the moon is full, I'll never know
If the sun should shine, no light will show!
I hate it here, all alone! And unfamiliar with the unknown
But I have no worry anymore
I hear a knocking at my door
I know now,
That it's useless to cry
For my time has come, for me to die!

Cindy Roragen

DRIP DROP, DRIP DROP, DRIP DROP, DRIP DROP, DRIP DROP,
Water splashing away.
Someone shut it off! I'm too tired.
When will it end?
The dogs won't stop barking. So what?
Who cares, who cares about anything?
How sad — to be alone that is.
Struggling to be heard, yet never making a sound.
And when nothing is said,
Nothing is ever heard.
How true, How true.
Cut my finger today.
— Not bad though, I'm okay.
DRIP DROP, DRIP DROP, DRIP DR — Ma, shut the water off!
I wonder what it's like,
— to be alone that is.
If it's like this — I don't like it.
Tomorrow I'm going to find me a new friend!
No, on second thought
I'm going to tell an old friend "I'm sorry"
I hope I never get to be like that
— alone that is.

INNOCENCE

It rained pink sunsets on mamma babies,
Who cried happily for themselves.
It made me laugh to look at them
All wet in pink sunset.

Rainbows collapsed on wet babies,
Wailing wee beings now in scarves.
It made me laugh to look at them,
Covered in rainbows.

Pink rainbowed mamma babies
Cluttering sidewalks in spring.
Selling scarves and pink sunset juice,
Sale on rainbows.

Buy sunset juice from babies,
Send them to college.
Rainbows one for a penny,
Sunsets three for a dollar.

Silly babes selling scarce wares,
Rainbows going fast into dark pockets.
Preservatives added to sunset juice,
It doesn't taste the same.

Poor dear mamma babies,
No more sunsets,
No more rainbows.
It makes me cry to look at you,
Smothered in smog candy.

Lisa Kindrick

FRIENDS ARE LIKE FLOWERS

Friends are like flowers, you can't have too many!
Some you don't see around all the time, but that only makes them seem more special when they do appear.
Some are best in bunches
Some you like to enjoy all by themselves
Some are kind of shy and need encouragement
Some are big, bold show offs
Some grow even nicer year after year
Some occasionally get out of hand
Some are two-for-a-nickle
Some are worth your last dime
Some are the hot house variety that need a lot of pampering
Some are hardly perennials you can always count on to show up
Some add a festive touch to important occassions
Some you like to have around all the time
Some are a comfort when things go wrong and such fun when things are right
Old and new ones, too but the friends who become long joy are the special ones like you . . . . .

Rudy Lujan

"NEEDED YOU?"

I said I needed you,
You didn't seem to need me.
I said I cared,
You didn't even dare.
I said I loved you,
You looked away.
Now you look at me,
I look away.
You say you care,
I never could take a dare.
You say you love me,
I know I can't love you back.
You've done me wrong,
Now you've come back.
But I can't look at you,
I wouldn't care
I couldn't love you, because
I know I never really needed
you . . .

ANNA PADILLA

CARL

He was my dream come true,
He made me feel beautiful in more ways than I knew.
He was tall, dark, and handsome,
And in his special ways,
He could never be described by any poem or phrase.

He had eyes of emerald green,
Eyes so gentle and yet so keen.
We promised that we would never part,
Though we knew it would end from the very start,
For nothing good will last forever,
From this point on I will see him never.

Death came upon him one cold November day,
He said, "I love you."
And slowly slipped away.
He's gone to a place where I cannot go,
Time passes so quickly and yet so slow.
When I think of Carl,
I think of love past,
And the beautiful memories that will forever last.

JANE HERRERA

Unite as One

I write of the black
I write of the white
I write of chicanos
and the way we all fight
We were put on this earth to help and to give
Instead of live and let die
We should live and let live.
God put us here on this earth
to stay
But not for long 'cause death's on its way
Life is short and it could be long
But the reason for shortness is "We all can't get along"
Well, I am going to give you a word of advice
You might take it wrong
But I mean it to be nice
God didn't put love here
for it to stay
'Cause love isn't love 'till you give it away.

Pamela Lovato

Silent Goodbye

You came to me like a flashing light surprising me . . . you with your eyes so bright
But I was a fool
I thought you were here to stay
Forever
I hoped you would never go away
But now you are gone
I should have known
The night was too, too good for me and you
Now the days and nights are like a sad, sad moan
You are gone without so much as a word
a call
No message from a little bird
none at all
If you could only let me know
what went wrong
Why did you have to go
Send me a song
a signal
To show why
you are gone
Inside I want to die
Please let me know why
It's such a silent Good-Bye

Cynthia Montoya

Seasons

During winter, spring, summer, and fall
I know that you will never call.
You don't care where I am
'cause I'm just your friend.

Through winter, spring, summer, and fall
I'll think of you all in all
The time that I spent, 'cause to me you're much more than just a friend.

Beatrice Torres

There's a crack
in the world,
and I've fallen in,
down in the darkness where
I've never been.
People are looking

The Future

It's the time for our graduation.
It's more than a cap and I know it's more than a gown.
We've accepted an invitation to be a part of life's celebration
Well, we're moving ya! We're moving, and together, together we're on our way. 'Cause we are the future generation. Hand in hand when we can. In between the joys and sorrow. We can fly, you and I, to that land we call tomorrow. We will become what we reached for if we all reach out as one. We are the future, the future generation
But it's so hard to turn loose and leave your childhood behind you.
But it won't mean a thing if you don't use your mind
Because we are the Future!!
"We are the future generation"

Yolanda J. Neil

The Class of '80

It was a hot day in August that started our four year experience. The year was 1976, which also marked our country's Independence.

A whole new generation of freshmen were now in Big Red Country. How we survived is very hard for me to even attempt to see.

But every once in a while it's good to go back and find the laughs & cries, just as long as we can remember, the memory never dies.

Remember the first day of school, going crazy to find our classes. "Don't look scared though!" The seniors might think we're nothing but asses.

How about the time we first ditched class with our friends. The agony of our parents finding out, never seems to end.

We can't forget falling love with the cutest guy in school. Oh, the wonderfull stride he used! No doubt about it he was "Mr. Cool."

Gosh, how I would love to forget the many hassles for homework every single night! Except on Thursdays, I made sure and watched Mork from Ork.

There so many persons, places and things that have become permanant. What has happened to us the last four years is surely an achievemnt.

Everyday is important, but it was Rio that made us or broke us. There's no looking back now, there's no more things to discuss.

Sadly, it's time to wish our dearest friends a loyal good-bye. The last day of school is over, so we end the year with a quiet sigh!

CONGRADULATIONS CLASS OF 1980!

Gina Castillo

Graduating

A day of hope, a day of happiness.
A time to remember your high school graduation.
Now that your classes and studies are done.
Time to close another chapter
filled with study, work, and fun.
Time to have a "sad - glad"
feeling now that your high school days are done.
A time to remember and celebrate too,
a time for your friends to congradulate you.
A time for those memories you're sure to recall, and for looking ahead to the best years of all.
You deserve a lot of credit for everything you've done. The studies you've completed, the diploma that you've won.
There's a whole world waiting and you're the graduate it's waiting for.
Hope the future path you choose leads you to success and lots and lots of happiness plus a whole lot more.

Alma Marquez

T.T.

In this sad world of ours,
sorrow comes to us all,
and it often comes with bitter agony.
Perfect relief is not possible,
except with time.
You cannot now believe that you will ever feel better.
But this is not true.
You are sure to be happy again.
Knowing this, truly beleiving this,
will make you less miserable,
now.

Joyce Sarkis

BEING PROUD

I am proud to be an Indian,
Knowing how chosen I was
To be a part of America's role,
To take the part of a good, honest
to God Indian.

I was chosen because I
Was God's choice to enter
This world and to be what
I am, today.

Nowadays, some people push us back, but "Why?"
We're all God's choice and
No one can change that!
Why? Because we are God's Choice to be what we are and to be here, on this day.

We are all brothers and sisters,
We are all God's children,
No matter what our race, color,
or creed is, we are all still His.

So be proud, stand up for your rights,
Knowing we are all God's children,

The House On The Hill

The year was eight-teen and sixty-three,
When a woman bought a house with a beautiful tree

The big white house sat atop a hill,
The woman was beautiful, but her looks could kill

She invited men from the town below,
To come up to the house and hear the wind blow

Some of the men didn't return,
The town decided the woman would burn

"She's a witch", one of the townfold said,
"We'd all be better off if she were dead"

So up to the house they marched with their flame,
The men were gone and she was to blame

Out of her house she was drug,
And thrown to a place where her grave was dug

The fire was burning her all about,
And over the noise they heard her shout

"My house will take vengence upon you all"
And with her words the tree began to fall

The ground started shaking, let the fire begin,
The earth opened up and they all fell in

The ground was quiet, all stood still,
The woman sat smiling in her house on the hill.

The Building

One dark and gloomy night
Five high school students set out on a plight

They left home without speaking a word
To go to a place where nothing is heard

They gathered at a building labeled D.B.
Because one of the students had stolen the key

In the middle of the stage they placed a table
To listen to the spirits, if they were able

Around the table they gathered their hands
And heard a sound like beatings on a can

A girl with dark hair and deep dark eyes
Bellowed a noise like a thousand black flies

A wind whipped round and round the place
And in mid-air there glowed a face

Moans and groans began close by
The face in the air told them to leave or die

The students just sat and held their hands tight
As the face talked it filled the room with green light

The next day a janitor opened the door
And went to the table where the students were before

The auditorium was torn about
But what he saw made him run out

Above on the catwalk five ropes swung
And on the ropes the students hung

Harold Cherryholmes

So sorry its been nice to have knowing
you. I liked working with you. Will keep the nice smile ok.
Love always a friend

You walked into my life
like a good thing out of a dream
I hoped you'd stay,
but like the dream
You just faded away

Vicky Le Beau

I WAS ALWAYS THERE

I was there when you did not notice
I loved you so
I asked you if you felt the same
All you said was "NO"

My heart was broken in two
When I saw her with you
I stayed in the shadows all through the years
I cried so many tears

When you finally went your seperate way
I went to your side
Those were the happiest days of my life
But then and only then did I see
I loved you and you loved she

As the year went on
I cared so much
I craved for your loving touch
You never cared
But I was always there

Ruth Baca

"Once"

You tell me you love me,
I wish it were true
You tell me you've missed me,
I used to miss you
When you walked out the door,
I thought I would die,
But you just kept walking
Didn't even say good-bye
And now that you're back,
It isn't the same
With me it was real
With you just a game
Its true I loved you once
But that was before
Now you say you love me,
But it doesn't matter anymore.

A DREAM

You walked into my life like a good thing out of a dream. I hoped you'd stay, but like the dream you just faded way . . .

Vicky LeBeau

Recipe of Love

Take one girl with a smile that glows,
Take one boy that will love her so.
Mix their hearts with lots of dreams,
And keep them together with love seams.
A few little kisses . . . a few little hugs,
A couple of minutes they'll be snug as a bug.
Making love their only passion,
When making love there is no ration.
Kissing under the moon above . . . . .
Forever and ever there will always be Love.

Patty Lewis

It Won't Work

It won't work
And I know why
But no one can ever say
I didn't give it a try

I wanted you all to myself
And I really did try
But all you wanted to do
Was tell me Good-Bye!!!

But you never really told me
You just cut everything off
I was left wondering
I didn't know when or where to stop

Do you do this to everyone
Or just me
We've both been hurt
that's plain to see

I should have kept you
as my friend
'Cause when you became my lover
Our friendship came to an end

Larry,
You're a really crazy
dude & met this year.
Chemistry would've have been the same without you...
Keep up the good work
Smile & crazy personality.
I'll always remember you
& the crazy Aunts you pulled in class. Good luck in the near & far future &
with everything you do in life
God Bless & Keep you always.
